TWO ARTISTIC FLOATS REPRESENT CITY

Presbyterian Church Dedicated and Out of Debt

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES TAKE PLACE ON SUNDAY IN IMPOSING STRUCTURE

All Day Program of Services Marks Great Event for Congregation; Number of Inspiring Talks, Songs, Exercises

"But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain Thee; how much less this house that I have builded?" I Kings, 8:27.

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

All day yesterday the warm Southern California sunshine poured in upon the congregation assembled in the auditorium of the new $350,000 Glendale Presbyterian church at the northwest corner of Harvard and Louise streets, softened and hallowed by the magnificent east window of stained English glass; and when at last the sun sank and the lights from within that monumental House of God sprang up, the radiance from within poured out and a matchless panel illumined the night.

Simple indeed was this phenomenon of nature, and yet it took on the aspect of a singular and holy symbolism. It was as though this beautiful church, filled to overflowing with Divine radiance, opened its great heart when the shadows lengthened and gave to the city a measure of its light.

Morning Services

Following an hour of inspection, the services started at 9:30 o'clock in the morning with Bible school in the main auditorium, in charge of Superintendent H. L. Finlay, who turned the exercises over to Rev. George L. Snively of Illinois, a celebrated evangelist, introduced by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church. Rev. Snively took for his theme "Jesus, the Light of the World," and illustrated his talk with a table of varicolored candles.

Following this service a number of children came forward to declare themselves, after which the Bible school adjourned to the Central Christian church for an overflow meeting. They returned to the new church at 1 o'clock for luncheon in the great social hall downstairs, joining the hundreds of members and friends who had witnessed the pledging of over $200,000, under the inspiration of Rev. Snively.

Judge Scott Speaks

Judge Robert H. Scott of Los Angeles, the principal speaker at the 2:30 o'clock memorial service, praised the fine church, called attention to the increasing responsibility of the layman in welfare work, pointed to the great opportunities in the mission field and urged that the congregation enter the new building humbly, if they would commune with God.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, J. C. Sherer, W. J. Clendenin, H. L. Finlay and M. P. Harrison then read over the names of beloved members who have passed on in the days since the church was organized in 1884, as follows:

By Rev. W. E. Edmonds: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Frank, Mrs. Martha Scottern, Mrs. Mary Farnham, Miss Ruth McBride, J. H. Shugart, Mrs. Maude Goewey, Mrs. Sadie Rider, J. E. Lyon, William Porter, Mrs. Martha Runkle, Mrs. Sarah Rice, Louis McDill, Scott Black, Mrs. Ruby Scott, J. W. West, Mr. and Mrs. William Morrow, William Harrison, E. A. King, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boss, Rev. Frederic A. Field, Adolph Englehadt, George L. Person George Kettering, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Redman, Judge S. F. Stahl, F. J. Adams, Mrs. Avery, Miss Annie McCollam and her mother, Mrs. McCollam.

Others On List

By J. C. Sherer: Elias Avers, E. T. Byram, Dr. T. M. Hedges, Mrs. H. N. Harris, Miss Rachel M. Sherer.

By W. J. Clendenin: Mrs. Isabella Catherine Baldwin, H. L. Tepe, John McCurdy, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hosack.

By H. L. Finlay: Edward Vandenberg, Lawrence Davis, Doris White, Iva LaFranchi, Alma Engle, Virginia Cribbs.

By M. P. Harrison: Rev. and Mrs. J. C. McKee, Frank Runyon, Mrs. Harriett Osborn, George Osborn.

Original Hymn

A feature of this service was the singing by the choir of the original hymn by Judson Harris, "I Have Built Thee an House," which was opened by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church.

The evening worship at 7:30 o'clock witnessed the official dedication of the new church, and was featured by an address of most marvelous eloquence by Rev. Stewart P. MacLennan, moderator of the Los Angeles Presbytery and pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hollywood.

"The Church, Its Origin, Its Destiny and Its Mission," was Rev. MacLennan's theme. His text was from St. Matthew, 16:18, "Upon this rock I will build my

Presbyterians Raise Sum Of $239,199 In One Day; Put Church Out of Debt

Members and friends of the Glendale Presbyterian church yesterday subscribed $239,199 to the building fund, going over the top $2744, in the greatest one-day financial drive this city has ever witnessed.

Approximately 500 donors poured this golden shower into the treasury of the magnificent edifice, thus providing for the entire indebtedness, with a good margin to allow for any possible shrinkage; and it is reported this morning by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor, that further amounts are still coming in and will materially swell the total.

Subscribes $60,000

By far the heaviest donor was W. J. Clendenin, elder of the church and chairman of the building committee, who yesterday added $43,000 to the $17,000 he has already contributed, bringing his donations to the magnificent total of $60,000 and making him an outstanding figure in the California Presbytery, as he has long been outstanding in the local church.

The next largest pledge was for $25,000, made by the Women's society, while scores donated $5000, $2500 and $1250, while literally hundreds of smaller donations helped swell the total to the above amount, placing the new church at once in a position where it can accompish its mission in the community, unhampered by debt.

Rev. George L. Snively of Illinois, who with Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, was responsible for raising this large sum of money, stated before he left yesterday that in all his seventeen years of this work he had never before raised such a sum in one day.

Prefacing his talk with the tribute that the new church stands as an inspiring monument to the Fatherhood of Jehovah, Rev. Snively spoke of the omnipotence of God and contrasted human with divine intelligence. He then called for donations and by his magnetic influence the congregation opened up their hearts in a manner that astounded everyone.

Not only members of the new church but friends by the score poured in their contributions, among them many pastors and members of other churches, as well as local business firms.

Speaking for the finance committee, A. R. Eastman, treasurer, declares that yesterday's donations exceeded expectations and put the church on a sound financial basis.

U. S. Envoy Given Cordial Greeting By British Press

LONDON, Dec. 31—Frank B. Kellogg, the United States ambassador to Great Britain, received a cordial welcome from the British press today. He was characterized as a man of "distinguished appearance and friendly manner."

Tribute also was paid to the demure womanliness of Mrs. Kellogg.

Ambassador and Mrs. Kellogg arrived yesterday.

Ambassador Kellogg reached the American embassy bright and early and was at his desk at 10:30. First he greeted the members of his staff and then received a few visitors representing American organizations in London.

WESTERN STATES IN WINTER'S GRIP

Zero Weather and Blizzards Cause Much Suffering Over Wide Area

DENVER, Dec. 31.—Thirteen degrees below zero was registered here at 2 o'clock this morning with the prediction of continued cold and snow for Denver.

In the mountains near Rock Springs, Idaho, temperatures of 40 and 45 degrees were recorded while terrific gales accompanied by snow threatened to wipe out thousands of cattle and sheep.

Intense suffering was reported at Anaconda, Mont., where a temperature of 62 degrees below zero was registered.

Winter Hits West

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Winter's long visit to the west arrived with a blast calculated to make the old year well willing to die and leave behind sub-zero temperatures, whistling blizzards and high piled snowdrifts.

Nebraska was in the clutch of a blizzard today, with the thermometer six below at Lincoln, eight below at Kearney, Fargo, N. D., had twenty below, and Winnipeg 22 below.

Ice and Snow Coming

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Old Man Winter has made a New Year's resolution, the weather bureau announced today. Beginning tomorrow he will quit masquerading and be himself, bringing icy blasts and snow.

Rains which began last night and continued today will turn to snow tomorrow, according to the weather bureau.

NEW SESSION TO CONSIDER CLAIMS

Mexican Senate's Approval Of Convention With U. S. Is Predicted

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—Another session of the Mexican senate will be called immediately, it was learned today, to consider the general claims convention with the United States which was rejected Saturday night owing to the failure of the minority senators to put in appearance.

Leaders who favor approval predict an overwhelming majority in favor of an approval when the issue is again brought up.

The minority senators, who opposed the convention, had previously agreed to appear and it was understood that most of them, if not all, would vote in favor of the measure.

The action of the opposition in failing to put in an appearance was condemned by leading newspapers as unpatriotic.

Parisian Suburbs Are Inundated by Floods

PARIS, Dec. 31.—The flooded Seine river today began to flood the suburbs of Paris. The lowlying district at Cuyaberi on the edge of the city was inundated. The weather has turned colder, checking the rains.

Reports from the provinces state that the Marne, Aisne, Loire and Meuse rivers are flooded, causing damage.

SEWER PACT APPROVAL NEEDED

Bonds and Contract Demand Two-Thirds Vote, Says Mattison B. Jones

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.

"One point in connection with the approaching vote on the sewer bond election to be held on January 8 has been, to a great extent, overlooked, and that is that the contract between the cities of Glendale and Los Angeles must be approved by a two thirds vote of the citizens of Glendale if the sewer project is to be accomplished," declared Mattison B. Jones in a statement issued this morning.

"Article 7 of the contract," Mr. Jones continued, "calls for two things: the passage of the bonds by a two-thirds vote, and the approval of the contract by a two-thirds vote. Two questions are on the ballot, samples of which are already in the hands of the registered voters. These are the bonds and the contract.

"If the people of Glendale vote the bonds but fail to approve the contract by a two-thirds vote, Los Angeles is not bound to proceed with the agreement, and would not, in my judgment, proceed with it, on the ground that Glendale has not approved the contract. The two must stand or fall together.

Stephens' Opinion

City Attorney Jess E. Stephens of Los Angeles informed him, Mr. Jones said, that the people of Glendale must show their interest in the question of the ratification of the contract by the required vote, as the moral equation is one of the most vital elements in the entire agreement and it is necessary, Attorney Stephens declared, that Glendale stand behind their representatives solidly. Mr. Jones contended that the machinery of the law is ample to enforce any agreement between cities or individuals, provided that a contract is not against public morals or public policy.

"The registered voter who stays at home and who does not vote is against the sewer bonds and

WASHINGTON FAVORED TO WIN

Huskies Enter Pasadena Game With Slight Edge On Midshipmen

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—Predicting another triumph for western football, but admitting they expect one of the toughest and hardest games of the season, members of the University of Washington football squad arrived here early today from Seattle to meet the United States navy academy eleven of Annapolis in the annual East-West gridiron classic at the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena tomorrow.

Practically every member of the Washington team was reported to be in the best of shape which means Coach Enoch Bagshaw will be in a position to hurl the full strength of his Washington eleven against the middies.

Both Washington and the Navy team, which arrived in Pasadena yesterday, were scheduled to go through light workouts this afternoon. Bagshaw and Bob Folwell, Navy mentor, have each expressed hopes that the game would be played on a dry field, permitting both elevens to show to best advantage.

Washington is expected to enter the game a three-to-one favorite over the eastern representatives, who were beaten once and tied twice during the regular playing season. Washington lost only one contest, going down to defeat before the University of California, Pacific coast champions. In some quarters, however, the Annapolis team is given an even break to win, although generally the western eleven is slightly a favorite.

Neither Bagshaw nor Folwell has announced lineups for the New Year's contest, but it is expected the teams will start the game with the following players:

Skin From Eleven Persons Grafted On Burned Child

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 31.—Little Ralph Orcutt will start the New Year with a whole skin, thanks to the sacrifices of eleven persons who submitted to skin grafting to aid the 9-year-old fourth or July victim. Two of the eleven were girls, Anna Johnson, 16, and Edith Goodale, 14 years old. In all thirty-three inches of skin were grafted on to the boy's burned limbs. His father had submitted to numerous skin grafting operations, but the surgeon decided nothing short of the grafting of a large amount of skin could cure the boy's burns.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN DENVER FIRE

Flames Drive Residents Out Into Sub-Zero Weather; Several Injured

DENVER, Dec. 31.—Two persons are known to be dead, and several are suffering from injuries and exposure, following a series of early morning fires in Denver caused by overheated furnaces and stoves that were necessitated by the severest cold wave that the city has known for years.

Miss Beatrice Jones, Denver school teacher, died from injuries sustained when she jumped from a second-story window of a downtown rooming house. Mary Olson, another teacher, was taken to the hospital and Miss Evelyn Louremen of O'Fallon, Ill., received a broken neck and will probably die from her plunge. The fire was discovered by Joseph McGrath, a roomer who jumped thirty feet to the ground in his night clothes in an effort to secure help for the trapped women. He will recover. Mrs. Herman White, wife of the owner of the rooming house, was removed from a downstairs room where she was confined with pneumonia. Her condition is critical.

A second fire at Tremont and Twenty-first streets drove a family out into the sub-zero temperature. Beatrice Dusky broke her leg in a leap from a fifteen-foot window-sill. Her brother, Earl, was badly frozen while attempting, in his night clothes, to rescue the girl before she jumped.

Miss Ula Kramer of Loveland, Colo., was burned to death in the Tremont street fire. Miss Myrtle Wheelock received two broken legs in a leap from the flame-licked window-sill.

BEAUTIFUL FEATURES TO REFLECT BIG CREDIT ON GLENDALE AT TOURNAMENT

Bit of Fairyland for Commnuity's Display, While Elks Have One on "Charity"; Both Are Designed by L. W. Chobe

The charms of Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City in the United States," the achievements of the Glendale lodge, No. 1289 and the artistry of L. W. Chobe will be displayed tomorrow in the great Tournament of Roses in Pasadena by two beautifully and wonderfully made floats, one representing the city, the other the Elks' lodge, and both designed and decorated by Mr. Chobe.

Glendalians, who have each had a share in the civic pride of the past few years, when Glendale has won first honors at the last three New Year's day events in the Crown City, will wait with interest the appearance in the parade of the Glendale float.

Gets Inspiration

Mr. Chobe got his inspiration from the well-loved childhood tale of the two children, who went in search of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, and who returned old, weary and unsuccessful, for the pot of gold is to be found only in Fairyland.

In working out his inspiration Mr. Chobe took Glendale to be the real Fairyland, where the pot of gold (symbolic of content) is to be found. The great number of people searching in vain for the pot of gold in all parts of the world have come to Glendale, and here attained the object of their quest, thus making Glendale the fastest growing city in America.

Here's Description

So the Glendale floral float will represent Fairyland, and the following description of it comes from Mr. Chobe.

"In the background are tall, stately mountains, with pine trees silhouetted against a blue sky with sunset clouds. As these mountains slope to the grassy, flower-sprinkled fairy meadow, the subtle shadow of canyons may be seen, and to the left is a mysterious cave, which we may guess is the home of the delightful little brownie, who has filled his pack with gold from the pot of content and is about to wend his way back up the winding trail. Down these mountains rushes a fairy waterfall, which twists and winds until finally it disappears in the flowery meadow.

"Near the base of the mountains are dark pine trees, laden with lacy moss and shrouded in mist, which springs from the waterfall as it jumps from rock to rock. Out of this mist rises a glorious, colorful rainbow forming a graceful arch, at the end of which may be found the pot of gold.

Magic Flowers

"In this enchanted meadow are four quaint fairy trees, whose branches, resplendent with magic flowers of gorgeous hues, droop gracefully toward the waving grass. On the branches of one of these trees a spider has spun its web.

"Perched upon a creamy toadstool, listening to the song of the bluebird of happiness in the orchid tree nearby is a dainty little fairy. Near the center of the fairy meadow the tiny fairy queen is seated upon her frog steed. She is clad in a gown of shimmering white, reflecting the sparkle of her glistening wings, which sway gently back and forth. On her head is a crown of delicate blossoms. In her hand she holds the magic wand with which she generously bestows the gift of happiness upon all who enter her realm.

"The flower-sprinkled meadow forms the skirt, which ends in a

WITHDRAWAL FROM RUHR IS BEGUN

Complete Evacuation Awaits Reparation Settlement, Paris Declares

PARIS, Dec. 31.—France has begun to withdraw troops from the Ruhr (the coal and iron area of western Germany), it was officially announced today but the district will not be evacuated until France is satisfied in the reparations issue.

A foreign office statement said that during the present month three French regiments had been recalled from the Ruhr.

It is assumed that this is the first step in France's new policy of "invisible occupation."

Leave Army Corps

According to L'Intransigeant, the occupational forces will be reduced one half, leaving only one army corps of three divisions. One will be stationed at Dusseldorf, one at Essen and one in Dortmund. The French-Belgian military headquarters will be maintained at Dusseldorf.

The French had previously considered "invisible occupation" under certain conditions, and the question was again brought up with direct negotiations with Berlin.

By "invisible occupation" is meant the reduction of French and Belgian troops to a minimum where their presence will not irritate the civilian population of the occupied areas.

May Revive Police

Under "invisible occupation" it is likely that the German police may be brought back at least part of them—to maintain order.

French and Belgian troops occupied the Ruhr just one year ago, lacking 16 days. Since that time the two armies have been reinforced from time to time.

BANDITS RUN AS BULLETS RATTLE

Attempted Holdup Foiled as C. K. Waite Opens Fire With Revolver

Two men driving a Dodge car attempted to hold up C. K. Waite, 617 South Brand boulevard at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning on Verdugo road in Sparr Heights.

Mr. Waite, whose car had developed engine trouble, drew out to the side of the road to fix it. While parked there he noticed the two men slow down and saw them alight with revolvers in their hands. Mr. Waite reached for his revolver in the front seat of his own car and dropped to the ground on the opposite side from the men. He fired two shots at the bandits, and they returned the fire, striking Mr. Waite's windshield.

Seeing that their intended victim was armed, and intended to argue the point, they jumped back into their car and drove off south toward Glendale. Mr. Waite was not able to obtain the license number, although he reported that the last two numbers were 26.

Holiday Wedding

Much interest is evinced in the wedding of Miss Hope Arnold of 108 South Everett street, and Walter A. McCrea of Chefoo, China, which was solemnized on Christmas Eve, December 24, 1923, at the home of Mr. McCrea's uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. V. H. Cowsert of Clovis. Rev. Cowsert officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a white wedding gown of rich white satin, the material of which was made in China. Her wedding veil was fastened with orange blossoms and pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses and lilies of the valley and fern.

The only attendants were cousins of Mr. McCrea's, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cowsert of Hermosa Beach.

Mrs. McCrea has been a resident of Glendale for the past six years and has made a host of friends here. Mr. McCrea is the son of Rev. and Mrs. T. F. McCrea, who have served in the missionary fields in China for over 18 years. They also have a host of friends here, having spent their vacations in Glendale. During their stay here they were actively connected with the Baptist church. It was during their stay in Glendale about six years ago that Mrs. McCrea met Mr. McCrea at a young people's meeting held in the Baptist church.

Mr. McCrea returned to Glendale last August and in the summer he and his bride will return to Chefoo to make their permanent home. Mr. McCrea is an architect and is engaged in business in the oriental city. They will make their home for the present at 604 North Glendale avenue, where they will be glad to welcome their many friends.

GLENDALE LEADS SECOND DIVISION

White Sox Win From Palms; Culver City Team Aids Locals Standing

As a result of Glendale's win over Palms-Culver City yesterday, they now have lost 3 and won 3 in the Triple A league, leading the second division.

Wally Hood's bludgeon was largely responsible for Sawtelle's win over the Union Tool outfit from Torrance yesterday, the Angel driving out three safe blows. The final count was 10-2 in favor of Larry Arnold's crew.

Pete Mele and his harbor pastimers from Wilmington walked off the field in the second inning on account of a decision of Umpire Brain. When they refused to start playing again at the expiration of the time limit, he declared the game forfeited to Shell Oil, 9-0. As the decision was one of judgment, and not one of interpretation of the rules, it is not likely that any protest will stand.

Three Teams Tied

San Pedro made it a three cornered tie for pirst place with Shell Oil and Wilmington as the other contenders, by virtue of the forfeited game which they had scheduled with Anaheim, who quit the league two weeks ago. Instead of the league fixture they played an exhibition game.

Tomorrow afternoon Sawtelle comes to the San Fernando road lot again to settle the eleven inning dispute of last week which was called, with the score 4-4, on account of darkness.

Whitaker, for the White Sox, and Barnaba for the visitors, promise another pitchers' battle. Despite the counter attractions of the Navy-Washington game and the races at Culver City, a large crowd is expected to be on hand to see if Glendale can upset Sawtelle's claim to first place.

Average amount of money found in pocketbooks left on excursion trains is from $2 to $5.

RIBS BROKEN AS AUTO OVERTURNS

Mrs. D. J. Smith Injured When Collision With Truck Wrecks Automobile

Mrs. D. J. Smith, 546 West Stocker street, clerk of Judge F. H. Lowe's court, was painfully injured yesterday noon in an accident on the San Fernando road, near the Pacoima wash.

Mrs. Smith, riding with her brother-in-law, N. K. Senior of 547 North Kenwood street, who was accompanied by other members of his family, was proceeding north to attend a picnic near San Fernando. Just before reaching that city, Mr. Senior attempted to pass a large gravel truck owned by the Consolidated Truck company of Los Angeles, and driven by M. I. Mason, 2433 Sixth avenue, Ocean Park. Just as they were abreast of the truck, the driver turned to the left, struck the sedan which Mr. Senior was driving, overturning it and knocking it into the ditch alongside the road.

Ribs Are Broken

Mrs. Smith suffered several broken ribs, injury to her back and numerous cuts and concusions. Of the other occupants of the car, Mrs. A. L. Lewis of Salt Lake City had her arm badly cut, and Mrs. Senior also suffered cuts and bruises. Mr. Senior was not injured.

Mrs. Smith was taken to the San Fernando hospital, where an X-Ray was taken to determine the extent of her injuries.

A report from the hospital this morning stated that she was painfully, though not seriously injured.

The driver of the truck stated that he had given the proper signal before making the turn, but occupants of Mr. Senior's sedan report that if he did make such a signal, they did not see it.

The taxicab is being used to replace the jinriksha in Colombo, Ceylon.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

HAPPY NEW YEAR—WE'RE GOING TO REDUCE

Happy New Year! You have made your resolutions for this year? I know one thing that three-fourths of you have resolved to do—for there lives no man with soul so dead who does not resolve when th' old year's fied, to begin to diet. Am I right?

On Christmas Day I made a plea to you to start to reduce and to send the money which you would save for three days, to the Near East Relief to help them in their life saving work with the orphans. I will wager that most of you resolved to do that, but postponed it until the new year. Isn't it true? All right—it is hard to diet through the holidays, I know, so I'll forgive you. Now, however, there is no excuse for you.

Realizing that I can do a great deal more in the promotion of health by carrying on a campaign for normal weight than I can in any other way, I am going to start another reducing campaign. There are a great many new readers, who did not get our first instructions and there are more than a few backsliders, I fear. These are the ones we want to reach. The alumni who have stayed reduced, can stand on the side lines and cheer us on. They will be interested in this, too, for once having belonged to the F. F. F. (friendly fat fraternity) one never loses interest in the great game.

Now, there is only one way to reduce without injury to the health, and that is through control of the diet, and exercise. Do not pin your faith to ointments or baths or pills. The ointments and baths are valueless without diet, and the reducing pills are exceedingly dangerous and will bring on a condition worse than the overweight.

You will need all the aid you can get to strengthen your will, for your will is as flabby as weak jello. I know—it is embarrassing to me to let you know how much I do know about weak will power!—so I want you to sign the following pledge and send it to me in care of this paper. We will not use your name in any way. The fact that you have sent in this pledge will help you more than you dream. There is no catch in this. We have nothing to sell, no private system to exploit, no drugs to be used.

Tomorrow begin to shrink your stomach. (The inside one I'm referring to). Those of you who are tall may have 800 calories during the day, and those of you who are short may have about 600. I recommend especially one quart of skim or buttermilk and twelve large dates. That will average 620 calories. The milk will give a good supply of complete protein and lime, and the dates will supply iron, which milk is deficient in. Best make four meals of that total amount during the day, taking one glass of milk and three dates at a meal.

Because this will not furnish sufficient bulk, you had better take one-half cup of cereal bran which you can count about 35 to 50 calories. That will furnish more minerals and vitamines. If you do not like bran, take three or four tablespoonfuls of agar. You can take the bran or agar in one of the glasses of milk, making a cereal of it. Pour hot water over the agar first. It really is quite palatable. It is a Japanese seaweed, no part of which is absorbed so it won't register in calories. You will get this at the drug stores.

If you prefer, you may have some other fruit, or any of the following, if you chew them until they are liquids—they are all approximately 100 calories each: One large apple, one large orange, one medium banana, half large grapefruit, small bunch of grapes, four medium sized prunes or plums, two medium figs, one quart of clear consomme (no fat), one large sized slice of bread one-half inch thick, one shredded wheat biscuit or two triscuits, four ordinary crackers. I will continue directing you tomorrow. Now sign your pledge—

THE PLEDGE

Whereas:—

I am overweight and realize that by reducing I can improve my health, efficiency, and happiness, and

Whereas:—

I am one of the units of a great public, and realize that the improvement of the health of its units means the improvement of the health of this great public, and

I desire to join your Watch-Your-Weight Class, I promise I shall follow your directions in so far as is within my power. I shall play the game and do my part. I shall not cheat nor squeal. I PROMISE.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A QUESTION OF COURTESY

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—Last year I taught a country school where I had to ride to and from the place on the train at very unseasonable hours. There was no house near the school. Finally I secured board halfway between the station and the schoolhouse. The woman who took me and I were very good friends, especially after it was found that a girl chum of hers and I were high school classmates and members of the same city church. This cousin and I were always friendly, but never got intimate enough to exchange calls.

While boarding with Mrs. B. that winter I became acquainted with her two brothers and sister, living at the homestead near the station. I also met the sister's fiance.

In the spring the train schedule was changed, so that it was more convenient to go home each day. As my mother was not well, I was anxious to live at home. This had been understood between Mrs. B. and me, so that there were no hard feelings at my leaving. I sometimes stopped to call after school, and we were friendly.

The sister was married shortly after school closed in June. It was a big wedding, seventy-five guests. It was held out of doors at Mrs. B.'s. I rather expected to be invited, but was not. I thought perhaps I was wrong in expecting it, but mother contended that I should have been. Neither was I invited to come out for a visit in vacation, although I did not accept the school again. I got a position nearer home to be with mother on account of her poor health.

Which os us is right about the invitation? Was Mrs. B. lacking in courtesy? TEACHER.

Mrs. B. was not lacking in courtesy. She was your friend while you were in her home, but, after you left, she was under no social obligation to you. It was quite natural that you were not invited to the wedding. Although seventy-five guests sounds like a good many, doubtless the bride and groom found it difficult to include their closest friends and relatives in that number. Probably Mrs. B. was so busy during the summer it did not occur to her to entertain you and, even if she did think of doing so, she might have had very good reasons why she could not do so. I would advise you to regard Mrs. B. as a good friend and refuse to believe that you have been slighted by her. If you knew her side of the story, I am confident you would no longer feel hurt.

A WIDOW'S QUERY

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I am expecting a gentleman friend to visit me from another town. He will come a six-hour drive by auto. I am a widow living with a maiden aunt. Would it be proper to let my friend go to the hotel for Sunday dinner if he comes on Saturday evening in his car and stays at the hotel over night? Or should I have him in our home for Sunday dinner? We have never met, but were introduced by mail by a friend of mine, who is a cousin of his. I fear my aunt would not be pleased to have him here for dinner. I am 27 and feel I am not entirely under her control.

CONSTANT READER.

Since it would not please your aunt to entertain the gentleman for dinner, be cordial to him when you see him, but let him have dinner at the hotel. Perhaps he will invite you to dine with him, which would be quite all right.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

KEEP THE NECK YOUNG

Don't ever, if you can help it, let the neck grow old. You needn't have an old looking neck, if you are careful, until long after you have passed 60.

Two things make the neck beautiful, the color of the skin and the firmness of the flesh. If you wear tight or very stiff collars you will rub the neck until the skin is tough and yellow and until it is thin and scraggy looking. Don't wear collars up to your chin if you are more than 18 years old. Only the very young can stand them. If your neck is so ugly you must cover it up, wear something light in color and soft in texture which will roll softly round the throat; and open a little way in front. Thus you can conceal the neck but make the face look younger by the more youthful style collar.

Use cocoa butter on a wrinkled neck.

Always massage the neck when you massage the face. If the neck is badly wrinkled wash it with hot water and soap, rub it with warm cocoa butter and bind loosely with old strips of muslin. This should be done at bedtime, giving the neck all night to absorb the nourishing cocoa butter. It is a good once or twice a week treatment.

If you have been wearing anything dark against your neck, such as a coat collar or a fur, rub at night with cleansing cream, olive oil, cheap white mineral oil or even lard. Wipe off with a soft cloth and look at the extraordinary amount of black that comes away with the oil. Soap and water will not take off all this, nor can any neck be attractive to look at if the skin is not kept free from this dye.

More treatment than this is necessary. Astringents must be used on the neck to keep it young. A piece of ice should be rubbed over the skin for five minutes every day, or toilet water or toilet vinegar should be sprayed over it. Massage and exercise should be given frequently.

Miss S. S.: Instead of wearing braces, make a conscious effort to straighten your spine. A simple rule that will help you to maintain the normal position is to hold the head up with the chin back and slightly in. For a few days you will feel a strain on the muscles between the shoulders; and at such times raise the shoulders for an instant, lower, then move forward and then backward, as the exercise will relieve the strain and strengthen all the muscles that have grown lazy or weak, causing you to become round shouldered. If you are in normal health take a tonic or otherwise build yourself up, as there is a tendency to droop if there is a feeling of weakness.

Jackie: I will be glad to mail formula for lashes on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Miss C. S. Lamoreaus is a rural mail carrier in New York state. Winter and summer for nearly three years she has faithfully delivered the mail through Salina and Dewitt, N. Y. In the summer she drives a "flivver," but when winter's storms pile up the drifts of snow, as they have a habit of doing in Central New York she harnesses two faithful horses to an old-fashioned "pung" and blazes a trail through the country.

Miss C. S. Lamoreaus

Automobile tours for honeymoons are passe in England. English brides prefer tour by airplane.

Women in Paris have adopted a new profession. It is called "cor de chasse" and consists in playing a kind of cornet about the streets. It is said that they make a fair living from the coins collected.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, wife of the Irish statesman, is a woman of letters and the theatre. She is the author of "I Myself," in which she recounts her adventures as a belle in a southern state, a poor newspaper woman with a child to support in New York, the wife of the famous "Tay Pay," friend of authors, actors and other persons of importance in England and on the Continent. She has been writer of plays, of books, an amateur actress and a friend of men of letters and statesmen in England.

In British Guiana a young girl is not allowed to be beautiful. If she shows promise of beauty she is branded by a hideous scar on her mouth and cheeks by some male relative.

10 Years Ago Today

From Evening News Files

C. E. Kimlin of the realty firm of Kimlin & Royce is erecting a residence at 106 West Fifth street, This is the second home Mr. Kimlin has built this past year in Glendale and he certainly is setbuilder.

The merchants of Glendale report a most successful year. All of them so far interviewed predict that the business of 1914 will exceed all previous records.

Robert T. Lyons of 425 Cedar street brought to The Evening News office this morning three oranges that were picked Christmas day from a tree on a lot of his father, R. G. Lyons, at La Canada. One weighs one and a half pounds, measuring fifteen inches in circumference.

Steamed Date Pudding (repeated at the request of a reader): Beat one egg light; add to it one-half cup of sweet milk, three-fourths of a cup of stoned and shredded dates, then also add a dry mixture made by stirring together two cups of wholewheat flour, one-half teaspoon of salt, two and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, and four tablespoons of sugar. Now add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, beat well, then add two tablespoons of melted butter. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking powder can, put on the tight-fitting cover, sink this can in a pot containing boiling water (that is, enough boiling water to rise three-quarters up the side of the can) and let the water continue to boil around the can for four hours. Serve hot with a liquid lemon sauce, or with any favorite sauce.

Baked Smelts: Remove heads, tails and fins from rather large smelts, and clean thoroughly. Dredge with salt and pepper and place on a well-oiled baking pan. Sprinkle with lemon juice, cover the pan, and bake ten minutes in a hot oven. Uncover, place buttered crumbs on top of the fish, then let continue to bake (without cover) till the crumbs are brown. Serve with the following:

Mousseline Sauce: Cream four tablespoons of butter, then beat into the soft mass three egg-yolks, one at a time. Add one-fourth cup of heavy cream, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, a few grains of paprika, and cook till it thickens, stirring constantly. Now remove it from the range and beat into it two and one-half tablespoons of lemon juice, and four extra tablespoons of butter (broken into small bits) using a wire whisk for the work. Do not reheat. Serve with the fish. If, however, this sauce is too expensive, use the following:

Sauce Tartare: Combine with one cup of mayonnaise salad dressing (the bottled variety sold in grocery stores is excellent) with one-third cupful of minced gherkin pickles, parsley and capers mixed together. Chill before serving on the hot fish.

Hollandaise Sauce for Fish: This is another excellent sauce to serve with baked fish: Combine one-fourth cup of weak vinegar, two tablespoons of lemon juice, one-half cup of chicken soup (canned) and one-fourth cup of butter; put this mixture into a sauce-pan and place on range. When it is boiling, remove it from fire and pour it slowly onto four slightly beaten egg-yolks. Set the sauce over hot water and stir it until it is as thick as mayonnaise, using a wire whisk. Season to suit individual taste with pepper and salt. Serve at once.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

Holbrook Blinn, who enacts the role of the King of Spain in "Rosita," Mary Pickford's latest showing at the Glendale Theatre, is called the historionic monarch of the drama.

Dring his many years on the speaking stage Mr. Blinn has portrayed quite a number of royal personages, the most important ones being: Louis IV in "Moliere," Napoleon in "The Duchess of Dantzic," while San Franciscans will recall his portrayal of "Macbeth." In New York he played a prototype of Lord Kitchner in "The Hard Man" and in "Becky Sharpe" he was the Marquis of Steyne.

George Walsh, who is said to be one of the greatest football players of today ,plays the leading role opposite Miss Pickford in "Rosita" while others in the supporting cast include George Periolat, Irene Rich, Mme. de Bodamere, Snitz Edwards.

This picture is conceded to be the most elaborate ever filmed for Miss Pickford.

THE GATEWAY

Theodore Roberts is again a gruff parent with a heart of gold in the role of John Kent, father of Virginia Kent, played by Agnes Ayres, in "Racing Hearts," a Paramount picture which is showing at the Gateway Theatre today. Richard Dix plays opposite Miss Ayres.

As in "What's Your Hurry," a comedy-drama starring Wallace Reid, Mr. Roberts again has the role of a rich automobile manufacturer who refuses to recognize the value of modern advertising. But many new situations and an almost unlimited number of comical episodes and titles makes of the veteran character actor of the screen an entirely new person.

Richard Dix has the leading role opposite Miss Ayres; Robert Cain makes an excellent villain, while Warren Rogers and J. Farrell MacDonald complete the cast. The automobile racing scenes are thoroughly exciting.

Next to herring, the cod is the most important economic fish in the world.

THE GIMME WIFE

The wife of a very stingy man had always experienced great difficulty in inducing him to part with any change.

One day she followed him to the door and asked:

"Henry, can't you let me have a couple of dollars? I want to—"

"There you go again!" exclaimed Henry. "It's always money, money, money! When I am dead you will probably have to beg for it."

"Well," said the wife, "I shall be a lot better off than some poor women who have never had any practice."

If you are sincerely wanting a home at the right price, investigate this proposition, for it is one of those rare instances when the owner must sell immediately (leaving the city for business reasons), and is offering a great sacrifice.

The lot is worth $4000 conservatively. The house, consisting of 6 rooms with 3 bedrooms, modern, all built-in effects, etc., could not be built for $6000.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

San Pedro, 9; Anaheim, 0.

With George Walsh, famous movie star, cavorting in left field, Mike Donlin's White Sox yesterday took the Palms-Culver City crew into camp by the score of 4-2.

It was a pitcher's battle all the way between Arnold Crandall of Glendale and Bill Bailey, of the visitors. Both are southpaws. The tall, lanky heaver that used to wear the St. Louis Brown livery let the White Sox down with four hits. Three of these, two of which were doubles, came in the seventh and proved Bailey's undoing. Crandall was touched for six hits, but he managed to keep them fairly well scattered. Crandall was a bit wild at first, but in the latter part of the game found the plate and pitched fine ball. He walked five men and Bailey gave three free transportation. Bailey struck out nine and Crandall seven. Both fielded their position perfectly.

Pete Schneider, Ping Bodie and company made valiant efforts to save the day, but were unable to solve Crandall's delivery to any advantage. With the exception of a bobble by Walsh in left field on a hard run-in, the White Sox played errorless ball behind the left hander. Two errors by the visitors, one by Schneider and the other by Stout, figured materially in Glendale's victory. The latter error by the catcher was especially costly, as it allowed two runs to score.

First Score Comes

Neither team scored a hit in the first three innings. In the fourth with two out, Stansbury doubled along the first base line. Stout followed him with another two-bagger along the third base line, scoring Stansbury. Doran threw Bailey out.

In the seventh, "Ping" Bodie, first man up for the visitors, singled to left and took second when Walsh fumbled the ball on a hard chance on the bounce. Gorman singled to center, scoring Bodie. Crandall then tightened up and struck out Shaw and Stansbury. Gorman was run down between first and second ending the inning. After that the visitors were never dangerous.

Collard, leading in the fifth, secured Glendale's first hit of the game. He died on second, however. In the sixth the White Sox scored two runs without a hit. Arnold Crandall, first man up, drove a fly to right which Schneider dropped. It was a hard run, but Pete should have had it. Walsh worked Bailey for a walk. Doran laid down a perfect sacrifice. Hawks tapped to Bailey, and Arnold Crandall attempted to score but was tagged out at the plate. Walsh took third. On the next ball, with Doc Crandall up, Hawks started to steal. Stout bluffed a throw to second, then pegged to third to catch Walsh, who was taking a good lead. The ball hit Walsh on the shoe, and before De Maggio in left field could recover Hawks tore home from second, behind Walsh. Doc Crandall struck out.

In the seventh, after Collard had struck out, Sawyer doubled to the center field fence. Slade followed him with another two-bagger to the same spot, scoring Sawyer. Adams singled to left, scoring Slade. Arnold Crandall struck out and Adams was out stealing. That ended the scoring.

Many To Compete In Illinois Relay Race

URBANA, Ill., Dec. 31.—"The coming season in track and field promises to be the greatest in the history of American competition."

That is the prediction of Harry Gill, University of Illinois track coach, who has just supervised sending out invitations for the seventh annual Illinois indoor relay carnival.

Gill expects the Illinois meet, the first big competition of the year, to share in the great stimulation of interest due to the holding of the Olympic games in Paris. The Illinois classic will be the first mid-western meeting of many stars who aspire to represent Uncle Sam overseas.

The carnival program will include university relays of the medley, one, two and four-mile variety; college relays of one mile, two miles and medley; one-mile high school relay; special events comprising the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, dash and high and low hurdles of 75 yards each, 300-yard dash and the 1000 and 1500-yard runs, and the all-around championship consisting of seven events.

POLICE PROBING TWO BURGLARIES

Jewelry and Money Taken By Thieves From Home On West Lexington

Although the exact value of the articles taken has not been determined, burglars obtained a good haul of jewelry, and a small amount of money, from the residence of W. H. Stadt, 408 West Lexington drive, Saturday evening.

Three watches, several rings and other small articles were taken by the intruders. The house had been thoroughly ransacked.

One hour after Mr. Stadt had reported his loss, S. P. Phillips notified the police that someone had entered the residence at 429 West Lexington through a living room window. The house, which is rented furnished, is vacant at this time, the last tenants leaving December 27. Evidently the intruders were frightened away, as nothing was missed. They left by unlocking the front door.

Rivera's Probe Shows Spain Graft Ridden

MADRID, Dec. 31.— General an almost unbelievable amount of corruption existing in the civil service and other government departments in his efforts to wipe out graft and reform the country's administration from top to bottom.

Nearly every day mayors, aldermen and municipal employes are imprisoned for misappropriation of funds, and appalling abuses have been discovered in the administration of the law, the prison system and the police force.

All ministries, civil governors of provinces, mayors and aldermen have had to submit to rigorous examination regarding the conducting of their duties, and hundreds have been committed to jail, while it is reported that many have escaped imprisonment by suicide. In some provinces the jails are full, and military barracks have been requisitioned.

Inspection of the asylum for waifs, at Aranjuez, revealed almost indescribable conditions of dirt, damp and cold. Nearly every child was ill, verminous and suffering from loathsome diseases. For every 100 children there were nearly fifty well-nourished and well-paid attendants.

An inquiry into the working of the office of public charities, which has the enormous capital of $20,000,000, revealed amazing scandals existent. From the democrat minister, Signor Luis Silvel (who drew $3230 per annum from the funds) to the Conservative minister, Bugallal (who drew the mere pittance of $900), everybody down to the lowest official drew his share of the funds.

RUMORS INDICATE BASEBALL DEALS

Managers Are Dickering for Diamond Talent Needed to Bolster Clubs

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 31—Although trade winds at present are almost static, so to speak, some player deals in the National and American leagues are in the process of making, according to baseball men who watch the market as the fisherman watches the cork. Our Mr. McGraw, for example, is willing to waft three or four of his alleged pitchers elsewhere for a live one who can win a few ball games.

Across the bridge, Robbie, of the Dodgers, also would esteem a catcher and infielder very highly, to say nothing of several outfielders, base runners, hitters, run scorers and what-not. The infielder may be Rabbit Maranville, the non-refillable shortstop, of whom the Pittsburgh Pirates have frankly tired.

Withdraw Hornsby

Hornsby, of course, has been whisked off the auction block, but fevered denials to the contrary, Branch Rickey would be reconciled to the sad parting under appropriate auspices. These probably would include the passing over of two infielders, four pitchers, an outfielder and the right to steal. Hornsby will remain in St. Louis, sanity being a requisite of National league managers.

Down in Washington, it is understood that Clark Griffith would lend an attentive ear to proposals on Judge and Rice. At one time, this pair would have brought half a ball club in the open market, but the years have left their tarnish on the gold. At that, it is said that a deal of some kind is cooking between the Senators and Red Sox with Gorge Burns the focal point.

Wants Second Sacker

The Cubs would part gladly with Charley Hollocher, a great infielder, who forsook the club in mid-season because of illness, real or fancied. The tip has gone out that Hollocher actually is a sick man and the desire for his services is neither avid nor widespread. There may be another deal here later however.

Meantime, Ty Cobb is pawing hastily over the list of available second basemen but finds none. He was supposed to be on the trail of Jimmy Dykes of the Athletics, but it is understood that Connie Mack smiled a very super-smile and strolled away from there. It was reported also, that Cobb wants Bill Wambsganss, of the Indians, and was ready to pay the price in players, but nothing came of it.

SEWER CONTRACT APPROVAL URGED

Two Questions on Ballot Are Explained in Detail By M. B. Jones

against the sewer system," Mr. Jones stated. "I would urge all my friends and neighbors, as well as the entire citizenship of Glendale, to vote both for the bonds and for the contract.

"Glendale has a great opportunity. This city enjoys, under this contract, a privilege not granted by Los Angeles to any other municipality, the privilege of co-operating on the great question of the health of the two communities. This boon was obtained after months of difficult and hard labor, in which the greater city has done its part generously. The question remains whether Glendale will rise to the occasion and let the country know that she stands for perfect sanitation, which cannot be had without a sewer system.

Right to Opinions

"I have no quarrel with any of my fellow citizens on these two questions who may oppose the sewer system or the contract, provided their opposition is based on convictions honestly entertained. Every man and woman has a right to his or her own convictions, particularly in the exercise of the ballot, but I plead with everyone in

LA CRESCENTA

REAL ESTATE IS MOVING RAPIDLY

Sales of Foothill Property Increase as Holiday Lull Is Ended

Property is beginning to move again after the holiday lull. More building is going on than in the past few months, in fact, La Crescentians could well join in the building permit parade to be staged in Glendale.

Collins & Tillinghast are selling off the lots in the new Michigan avenue tract at a rapid rate; Mr. Warner reports very good sales in his unit, No. 2, while other agents such as Mr. Easton, Mr. Jacques, Mr. Roscoe, Cline & Romo, Mary B. Darrow, A. W. Brown, Louise Irwin and Mrs. Hickey are all doing well.

The Woman's Service League and Missionary society of the Community church held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the church rooms. The meeting was well attended and much work accomplished. Mrs. Kelso, wife of the pastor, was unable to be present, as she has been quite ill and is still under the doctor's care.

The new list of magazines to be received by the La Crescenta branch of the Los Angeles County Free library has arrived.

These magazines which are for free circulation to the public, have been chosen after a careful study of the kind most popular with the reading population of the valley and should fit every type of reader.

The monthly magazines to be received are:

American Cookery, Bookman, Century, Child Life, Harper's, House Beautiful, House Garden, National Geographic, Photoplay, Nature Magazine, Popular Mechanics, St. Nicholas, Sierra Educational News and Woman's Home Companion.

Weekly papers: Life, Literary Digest, Youth's Companion and Semi-Monthly Vogue.

Friends of Elmer Bennett will be sorry to learn of his recent illness. Mr. Bennett, while not yet convalescent, is holding his own under the care of Dr. Westphal of Glendale.

Mrs. Zena B. Wales is driving a new Ford coupe.

The very smart looking new transportation passenger stages are now being used on the Verdugo Hills route out from Los Angeles. These stages are red with the names of the towns which they serve printed on the sides. These names, La Crescenta, Montrose, Tujunga and Sunland are in gilt letters and quite readable at a distance.

The next meeting of the Verdugo Hills Post of the American Legion will be held in Sparr Heights Community house on Wednesday, January 3. If the expected charter has arrived by that time, the members will go ahead with electing their officers and completing their plans for a final organization.

Friends of Robert Wildhack have received their annual Christmas greeting which is always in the form of a cartoon drawn by the sender. Mr. Wildhack returned from New York a few weeks ago, where he had been the guest of "Life's" staff.

Montrose, Colo., People Plan New Year Meet

Former residents of Montrose, Colorado, of whom there are a great many in this locality, are planning their first annual picnic for Brookside park, Pasadena, New Year's day, following the Tournament of Roses parade in the morning.

The affair is sponsored by J. R. Starrs, of Montrose, California, and all who made the sister Colorado city their residence in the past are cordially invited to attend. Notices have been sent to many persons in southern California and a large atendance is expected.

REPORTS CRASH

Dr. C. J. Morris, 137 South Jackson street, reported to the police early this morning that his car, standing in front of his residence, had been struck by a passing autoist who did not stop. He stated that he had the license number of the other machine.

MERCY IS THEME OF SUNDAY TALK

Dr. Rasmus Urges Hearers To Forget Hatreds as New Year Approaches

Dr. Henry I. Rasmus preached a pre-revival sermon at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning, taking for his subject a memorial of Divine Mercy. The sermon was based on that interesting event in the life of the Prophet Samuel. "When Samuel took a stone and set it between Mispah and Shen and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.'"

"This memorial," said Dr. Rasmus, "was a recognition on the part of the Prophet of the hand of God in directing the affairs of the nation of Israel. When besieged by the armies of the Philistines, fear came upon the Israelites and they besought Samuel, saying, 'Cease not to cry unto the Lord our God for us, that He will save us out of the hands of the Philistines.' God listened to Samuel's petition. With a great thunder, He discomfited the armies of the Philistines and they were smitten before Israel, and the men of Israel pursued them and smote them until they came under Beth-car.

Made Confession

"Then it was that Samuel as a memorial of the Divine Mercy of the Lord erected the stone. When the children of Israel listened to the counsels of Samuel and confessed their shortcomings and looked to God for forgiveness and protection, their cry was heard. There was no need for the marshalling of forces, the drilling of men. God interposed and the day was won.

"Thus it was that the stone was erected and called Ebenezer, and the Desert became spotted with these stones as evidences of God's favor and interpositions, daily reminding the children of Israel.

"How similar has been the experience of our own nation. We have had our Red Seas, have marched through the wilderness, we have smitten the rock in the desert, passed over Jordan, journeying to the promised land with enemies on all sides. Out of many conflicts we have come off victorious. Thank God for our glorious republic, with its large grain fields, its fertile soil, its peace and tranquility. So shall we erect a memorial to our God for His help to us as a nation, saying, 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.'

Divorced Religion

"It is well that we have divorced church and state. But we have gone to the extreme, we have divorced state and religion and well-nigh forgotten God's mercy and protection. By His grace we are what we are. How often he has interposed in our individual life.

"It is well to look back over the years and remember His mercy and love, scattering blessings about our path that we can not find words to describe; can only say, 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.' In your home life He gave you father and mother. They have passed on, but their memory and influence are still with you. Imperishably precious is the legacy they left behind—a rich faith in God.

Honor Parents

"Were it possible I would erect a monument to may parents as high as any on earth and in the language of Samuel say, 'Hitherto both hath the Lord helped us.' Has God placed in your home and under your care that young life to bring up? Dedicate them to God as Samuel's mother did him; as likewise have many more mothers—as a memorial to God's mercy.

"Is there festivity in the home, the ringing of marriage bells, where two hearts beating as one shall embark on life's voyage, and erect an altar to God's mercy and love?

"Has death visited the family circle? Is there a narrow ridge in the church yard? God was there to share your sorrow and there you can erect a memorial of His tender mercy, saying, 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped me.'

Remember God

"Remember God in your prosperity. For He is the author of your success, just as God guides the mariner with the north star and the compass. Don't forget that God has put the wealth in the mountain and the fertility into the soil. Give to Him your ability, your genius, your industry. Live in the sweetness of His presence, the joyousness of His salvation. Then can you sing, 'Here I raise my Ebenezer hither by Thy help I come, and I hope by Thy good pleasure safely to arrive at home.' Covet the rich experiences of faith.

Forget Failures

"We should erect a memorial to God's grace in forgetfulness. Forget your failures, sorrows, disasters, temptations. Bury them so deep there will be no resurrection. Forget the slights, hates. What has not hate wrought? Cursed generations and generations from Jacob and Esau down.

"This is the last Sabbath of the year. Have you any grudges or hates? May God help you to forget. For if you do not forgive men, how can God forgive you? With one hand on the grave of the old year and one hand on the cradle of the new, seek God's help and gracious assistance. In the coming year may all your relations in family, business and social be marked by sweetness, happiness, helpfulness. Then as we go down the western slope of life can we say out of life's rich experience: 'Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.'" border of delicately tinted roses intertwined with strands of smilax and maiden hair fern.

Beautiful Picture

"The lettering is done in pink carnations, F-A-I-R-Y-L-A-N-D on the front and the back, and G-L-E-N-D-A-L-E on the sides.

"The mountains are decorated with heath, violets, and ferns; the sky is of blue delphinium with clouds of pink and salmon sweetpeas; the rainbow is of sweetpeas in rainbow hues, with the pot of gold of cornflowers and marigolds. The toadstools are made of narcissus and white carnations; the frog of Chinese lilies, narcissus and maiden hair fern. The tree on the front of the slope is decorated with orchids, the other trees with roses. In the grass are many varieties of rare flowers and beautiful roses."

Glendale Girls

The fairies will be portrayed by two pretty little Glendale misses, Elizabeth Hoffman of 515 Patterson avenue, and Eleanor Marek of 207 West Garfield street. Little Richard McPhail of 318 ivy street will be the Brownie. All of the children are 6 years of age and are pupils of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art.

R. E. Dodsworth of the fire department will pilot the community float.

"Charity" is to be the great principle of Elkdom expressed in the float of the Glendale Elks lodge. Mr. Chobe gives the following description of it:

"Charity will be represented by a woman in Grecian costume administering aid to a man in distress. These figures, which are made of flowers are placed on the porch of a Grecian temple.

"On the front wall of the temple, in back of the figures, the American flag falls in graceful folds around an elk's head and clock, symbols of the Elks' order. The flag is made of red and white carnations with blue corn flowers for the field.

Purple and White

"A walk of flowers leads up to the Grecian temple, and on either side of this walk is an expanse of green grass. The pillars are the majestically simple Doric, copied from the Parthenon, the most characteristic Grecian design, the egg and dart decorates the cornice.

"The color scheme of purple and white (the Elks' colors) is broken only by the red, white and blue of the flag, and the green of the foliage.

"The pillars and the cornice are of white Chinese lilies, the egg and dart design is in purple violets. The walls of the temple are of purple violets and greenery, the steps of candytuft. The figures are of white carnations. The walk leading to the temple is made in squares of candytuft and purple violets. The roof and the skirt are of Oregon grape, the lettering in white carnations."

VARIED PROGRAM AT DEDICATION

Presbyterian Church Hold Impressive Ceremonies All Day Sunday

church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Speaker Inspired

"The achievement of today is an achievement of faith," declared the speaker. And thereupon, in flight upon flight of splendid oratory, the speaker worked out his theme. When he turned for an illustration of a point to a recent trip to Manhattan and ascension to the sixty-sixth story of the Woolworth tower, his words reached the essence of sheer poetry, and so still became the great auditorium that his faintest vibrant whisper was heard in the farthest corner of the balcony, and there was no sound in that House of God except his inspired voice.

Rev. McLennan's address was preceded by an expression from J. K. Gilkerson, chairman of the finance committee, wherein he declared: "This is the greatest day of my life," and stated that the completed church, with its glorious tower, now stands as a symbol seen from Hollywood, Eagle Rock and all the surrounding country. In concluding Mr. Gilkerson spoke for the fellow members of his committee—Rev. W. E. Edmonds and Messrs. A. R. Eastman, A. L. Baird, H. L. Brown and J. A. Newton—and for W. J. Clendenin, who donted $60,000 to the new church and now stands out as one of the greatest Presbyterian donors in the west. The efficient work of Miss Louise M. Guenther, secretary-treasurer of the Glendale Presbyterian church, was also noted by Mr. Gilkerson.

"We can now go ahead for Jesus Christ," he finished. "What a privilege, what an opportunity."

Read Services

Dr. G. W. Wadsworth, former president of Occidental college, and at present secretary of the Board of Church Extension, was then introduced by Rev. Edmonds, and told what a fine thing it is to have beautiful churches, stating: "Just because the Son of God was born in a manger is no reason why we should worship him in a stable."

Music at yesterday's dedicatory services in the Glendale Presbyterian church was furnished by the following choir, with Otto T. Hirschler as pianist-director:

Mrs. Mina Wenzel, soprano.
Freeman High, tenor.
Miss Tilda Rohr, contralto.
Norman W. Kelch, bass.

The presentation of keys was made by W. J. Clendenin, chairman of the building committee, and accepted by T. W. Preston, chairman of the board of trustees, after which Rev. Edmonds read, with the congregation, the following ceremony of dedication, concluding the greatest day in the history of the Glendale Presbyterian church:

MINISTER—To the glory of God, our Father, by whose favor we have built this house; to the honour of Jesus Christ the Son of the living God, our Lord and Saviour; to the praise of the Holy Spirit, source of life and light and light;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—For worship in prayer and song; for the ministry of the Word; for the celebration of the holy sacraments;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—For comfort to those who mourn; for strength to those who are tempted; for help in right living;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—For the sanctification of the family; for the guildance of childhood; for the salvation of men;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—For the fostering of patriotism; for the training of conscience; for the aggression against evil;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—For the help of the needy; for the promotion of brotherhood; for bringing in the Kingdom of God;

CONGREGATION—We dedicate this house.

MINISTER—But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain hee; how much less this house which we have builded.

CONGREGATION — Yet have respect, O Lord, unto the prayer which Thy servants pray before Thee this day, that Thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, even toward this place of which Thou hast said, "My name shall be there."

MINISTER AND PEOPLE UNITEDLY—We, the people of this church and congregation, in the spirit of true consecration, do earnestly thank God that we have been permitted to build this house, through the gracious favor of Divine Providence, and we do here and now solemnly dedicate this sanctuary to the true worship and service of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

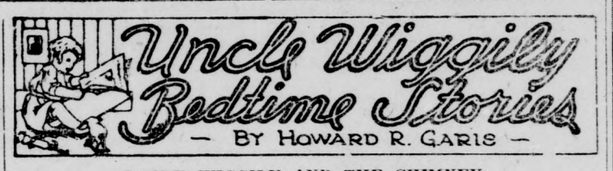
Miss Guenther Honored

The following self-explanatory statement was issued today:

While there are scores of men and women who, through their sacrifice during the entire building campaign of the church deserve honorable mention, space would prohibit personal reference to all their names. There is one, however, which stands out preeminently as a vital factor in the business management of the campaign, namely, Miss Louise M. Guenther, our church secretary. In special honor of her services a meeting of the joint boards of the church together with the finance and building committee was held after the Sunday evening service, December 30 at which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That we thank Miss Louise M. Guenther for her untiring and consecrated efforts in connection with the work of the church, with particular reference to the building operations, and as a small material expression of such appreciation, we present her with the sum of fifty dollars.

"(Signed,) J. M. Gilkerson, chairman finance committee; R. P. Isitt, clerk."



UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CHIMNEY

Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow had in it, not only a stove, but a fire-place, of the old-fashioned sort, with a big, wide chimney. On the hearth of the fireplace a roaring, blazing wood fire could be kindled, and about the fire Uncle Wiggily would sit with his friends, twinkling his pink nose.

"Well, Nurse Jane," said the rabbit gentleman one morning, "what about our chimney?"

"Yes, what about it?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper. "What do you mean, Wiggily, two cups of flour, one cup of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and—"

"Oh, excuse me!" she added with a laugh, as she saw the funny look on the rabbit gentleman's face. "I was thinking about a cake I am going to bake for Christmas. What did you ask me about the chimney?"

"I ask you what about it," went on the bunny. "Does it need blacking, as the kitchen stove did, to make it look proper for Santa Claus?"

"Oo, no, indeed!" answered Nurse Jane. "The chimney is black enough inisde, I dare say, for smoke has been going up it many a year. But it is all right for Santa Claus to come down if he likes."

"I'm glad to know that," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "And, as long as the chimney is all right, I shall hop off and have an adventure."

Mr. Longears was hopping through the woods and over the fields when all of a sudden, he reached the kennel house where Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow lived. Uncle Wiggily was rather surprised to see, up on the roof of the dog house, Mr. Bow Wow with Jackie and Peetie.

"Hello, Mr. Bow Wow!" called the bunny gentleman. "What are you doing up on the roof? Are you playing tag with Jackie and Peetie?"

"No, indeed," answered Mr. Bow Wow. "Some loose bricks have fallen down the chimney and I am getting them out."

"He's getting the bricks out so there will be room for Santa Claus to come down!" barked Jackie.

"'Cause if we didn't get them out Santa Claus might get stuck in the chimney," added Pettie.

"That's a good idea!" said Mr. Longears. "I mean about cleaning the chimney." For a time he watched Mr. Bow Wow and the puppy dog boys clean out the kennel chimney, and then Uncle Wiggily said to himself:

"For all I know, there may be bricks in our chimney. It may be stopped up so Santa Claus can't get down. I'd better go back to my bungalow and take a look. I'll clean our chimney!"

Back home he hopped. He found a ladder in the wood shed and placed it against the edge of the roof.

"I'm going up to clean our chimney!" called the bunny gentleman to his muskrat lady housekeeper. But Nurse Jane did not answer. "I guess she has gone to the store," thought Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I'll go ahead and tell her when she comes back."

Uncle Wiggily climbed up the ladder and reached the roof of his bungalow. Crawling carefully over this, so he wouldn't slip, he looked down the chimney.

"Yes, there is something down there," said the bunny to himself. "I guess it must be a brick or stone. I'll poke it out."

Uncle Wiggily went down the ladder and got a clothes pole with which to poke out whatever he saw down in the chimney. But though he picked and poked, the pole was not quite long enough to reach whatever it was.

"I must get a longer pole," the bunny gentleman. "Then I shall clean out the chimney properly, so Santa Claus can come down on Christmas eve!"

Down the ladder again hopped the bunny gentleman.

"I am having quite an adventure!" he said with a twinkle of his pink nose. He tied two clothes poles together to make one long one, and up on the roof he climbed again.

The Bob Cat popped out of the chimney.

This time, when he poked the pole down the chimney, he felt it touch something soft.

"That's a queer sort of brick to have fallen in," though Uncle Wiggily. "But I'll poke it down and get it out at the hearth." So he pushed and poked, and the soft thing went on down farther until he could no longer reach it with the two poles tied together.

"Now I'll go down inside the bungalow and see what it is that was stuck in my chimney," said the bunny. But when he reached the hearth, with sticks laid on it ready to light, nothing had fallen from the flue.

"This is queer," though the rabbit. "I poked something down, but where is it? I'll light the fire and see if the smoke goes up. If the smoke goes up Santa Claus can come down all right."

Uncle Wiggily lighted the fire. At first the smoke did not go out of the chimney, but poured out into the room, making Uncle Wiggily sneeze. Then, all of a sudden, there was a shout inside the chimney. A voice cried:

"Oh, I'm going out! I'm going out!" Uncle Wiggily rushed into the yard in time to see the Bob Cat pop up out of the top of the chimney, all black, sooty and his fur filled with smoke. Off the top of the chimney, down to the roof and so to the ground sprang the Bob Cat. "Oh, my eyes! My nose! I'm full of smoke!" he howled, as he ran off to the woods.

"Bless my pink nose!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "The Bob Cat must have hidden himself in my chimney to slip down and get me in the night. But I smoked him out all right! I smoked him out! He must have been that soft thing I poked down with the clothes poles! Ha! Ha!"

But, the Bob Cat did not laugh. Instead he coughed and sneezed from the smoke.

Blanks were mailed only to taxpayers who filed returns in 1923; others with taxable incomes must secure their forms at the internal revenue office in the federal building.

The entire force of Collector Rex Goodcell worked until late on Saturday and finally completed the mailing of the last form

Taxpayers will receive two forms for making returns. A new and simplified form, 1040-A, will be used exclusively by those whose individual net incomes were $5000 or less, coming principally from salaries and wages.

Tells Proper Forms

Persons, any part of whose income for the year 1923 was derived from business or profession, farming, sale of property or rents, regardless of the amount, will be required to use the larger form, 1040. The use of form 1040 will be required, also, in cases where the net income was in excess of $5000, whether from salary, business, profession or other taxable sources. Formerly, form 1040 was used only for reporting individual net income of more than $5000.

It being impossible to determine this year the form desired by the taxpayer—whether he be a man whose income was derived chiefly from salary or wages or from business, profession or other taxable sources—the taxpayer will receive both forms, and is advised by Collector Goodcell to note carefully the instructions regarding their use.

Last year 231,000 individual returns were filed and Collector Goodcell estimates that 260,000 will be filed in 1924. The filing period is from January 1 to March 15.

Music Teacher Buys Glendale Residence

The charm of Glendale as a nome city has won J. B. Trowbridge, director of music at the Bible Institute in Los Angeles, and he has just purchased through the Hart Realty company of 205 West Broadway, the property at 706 North Louise street.

Mr. Trowbridge is delighted with the prospect of living in Glendale, which he believes offers as many attractions as Los Angeles.

CHURCHES STIRRED BY MODERNIST TENDENCY

Demand For Newer Interpretation Of Holy Bible Rouses Storm

Above, Bishop William T. Manning, the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant and the Rev. Leighton Parks. Below, the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, the Rev. John Roach Straton, the Rev. Lee W. Heaton and the Rev. Charles F. Potter.

Two churches are stirred with internal dissension over the demand for modern interpretations of the Bible.

When the Rev. Lee W. Heaton of Ft. Worth, Tex., denied the virgin birth of Christ, he was ordered by his bishop to appear for trial for heresy. The incident threatens a split in the Episcopal church, many prominent Episcopal churchmen taking his side, including the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, vice president of the Modern Churchmen's Union, and the Rev. Leighton Parks, famous rector of St. Bartholomew church, New York.

Bishop William T. Manning, who a few months ago demanded that the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant either recant his declaration of non-belief in the divinity of Christ or resign, has been drawn into the controversy.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, New York, and the Rev. Charles F. Potter of West Side Unitarian church, two of the most prominent New York preachers, are engaged in a series of debates on fundamentalism, Dr. Straton defending the literal interpretation of the Bible, and Dr. Potter pleading for the preaching of religion in the light of modern discoveries.

Tax Receipts Reveal Twenty Per Cent Gain

Collector Goodcell announced today that the total collections of the district for the calendar year 1923 were $51,208,000, an increase of $8,426,000, or 20 per cent, over 1922.

Income tax receipts were $39,143,639, a gain of $6,159,043, or 18 per cent over 1922.

Collector Thanks Evening News For Co-operation

Editor The Evening News:
In extending to you a hearty New Year Greeting, I wish to express to you the thanks of the government for the splendid cooperation you have given the Internal Revenue Service during the past year.

I recognize the fact that you have only two commodities to sell—advertising and circulation. Yet you have given both to the government free of charge. Surely this is 100 per cent loyalty.

Again, I thank you,
REX B. GOODCELL,
Collector.

Services at Gospel Tabernacle Tonight

An old-fashioned watch night service will be held at the Gospel Tabernacle church, corner of Louise and Chestnut, tonight beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

It will be a time of rejoicing for this has been a year of stupendous growth for this recent addition to Glendale's beautiful churches, say officials of the congregation.

There will be splendid music, ringing testimonies, and an address by Rev. Thomas Mosley, who will give unpublished details of the great earthquake. Mr. Mosley will begin speaking about 10 o'clock.

The service will close with an altar service of prayer and consecration.

The public is cordially invited.

An average of three new novels a day, including Sundays, were published in England during 1922.

Full Details In Process Of Carrying Out Project For Sewers Is Explained

The taxpayer is naturally interested in knowing that the bond money will be wisely and economically spent, so that he will get his money's worth when the job is completed. For this reason it has been thought wise to put before the people in a concise manner the various steps in the process leading up to the completed improvements.

First—The citizens, by voting in favor of the bond issue and the agreement with the city of Los Angeles, furnish the needed authority for the city officials to issue and sell bonds for the providing of funds with which to construct the proposed improvements.

Second—The legality of the proceedings is determined by competent attorneys who are experts in bond questions.

Third—The bonds are advertised for sale and sold to the highest responsible bidder.

Fourth—The bond buyer delivers the cash to the city treasurer and receives the bonds after they have been duly printed and registered.

Fifth—The engineers prepare the final detailed plans and specifications covering the entire sewer improvements according to the preliminary plans as presented to the mayor and council of the city of Glendale and approved by them. The final plans and specifications on the outfall sewer shall also be approved by the Los Angeles board of public works as per the contract and agreement between the city of Glendale and city of Los Angeles.

Sixth—The work is advertised in responsible contracting and engineering journals, for bids to be received at a specified time for furnishing material and doing the work according as outlined by the plans and specifications.

Seventh—The bids are publicly opened by the city council and tabulated and the lowest and best bidder is determined. As completion of the sewer at the earliest possible date is of utmost importance, the item of time of completion in each bid will be given a place of importance in awarding the contract, as well as the competency of the lowest bidder.

Eighth—The city enters into contract with the successful bidders according to forms prepared by the engineers and approved by the city attorney.

Ninth—The contractor files a construction bond guaranteeing the performance of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications and guaranteeing the payment of all bills for material and labor.

Tenth—The contractor commences with the work not later than ten days after the signing of the contract and is paid monthly as the work progresses, a certain previously fixed percentage of the material delivered and work done.

Eleventh—The construction is supervised by engineers furnished by the consulting engineers, to see that the contractor performs the work in accordance with the plans and specifications. The supervising engineer, or engineers, are to be present at all times to see that the best interests of the city of Glendale are protected and that the best possible construction and workmanship is obtained

Twelfth—After completion of the work the engineers make a thorough final inspection and test, and if the sewer is found to be in accordance with the plans and specifications and contract, the engineers recommend the acceptance of the sewer by the city.

It is evident from the above description of the method of procedure, that every possible safeguard will be taken in order to insure the taxpayer that his money is being spent in the best and most economic manner to bring this needed sewer system within reach.

AUTHORITY FIRST REQUISITE, CLAIM

Occult Science Pastor Tells Necessity of Assuming Command in Life

Rev. Arthur A. Moore, of the Occult Science of Christ Church, 113 South Orange street, chose "Speaking with Authority" as the subject of his sermon on last Sunday evening.

Rev. Moore said in part: "To assume command or to have authority over anything in physical life is to understand the purpose and intent of that which is to be directed, as well as the manner in which it operates. With this knowledge, one in seeking the position of authority necessarily must be able to demonstrate his ability to command in a manner satisfactory to the giver of the place. To the average mind, experience is the first and most important requisite, with integrity and trustworthiness as secondary considerations.

"In Divine Law this is reversed. The employer, who is a student of the higher and silent forces that govern the lives of men, realizes the importance of giving to the individual the freedom of properly directed thought. The employer or employe asserts a power in feeling his unity with the other souls around and about him and he realizes that his mind is a powerful instrument through which he directs the concentrated force of his thought.

Weighing Thoughts

"To speak with authority toward one's self is to be determined in weighing each thought before allowing it to leave one's mind to be used by others. To speak with authority is also to disassemble that which has grown into wrong habits by reconstructing the mental attitude toward certain conditions of environment, etc.

"Speaking with authority to others is to sever all personal connection in the mental world and command the mind to be still and register that which is given, either by the self within, that is, intuitively or by the loved ones, as teachers of experience.

"One speaking with the knowledge that he is Spirit, with the knowledge that he is a reflection of his Almighty Father, 'eternal and unchangeable in the heavens,' can attain authority over all that comes within his realm of action."

Thanksgiving Bird Adds Home-Like Touch to Day Spent In Italian Hotel

More of Florence and Rome is described in the Kirk travel letter herewith printed. This letter is a continuation of the letter printed recently and in it Mr. Kirk tells of visits about these two important Italian cities. He writes,

W. B. KIRK

"The number of galleries, museums and interesting old buildings there renders Florence a much-to-be-desired place in which to study anything pertaining to these lines.

"Of course we could do no studying in our short stay, and were grateful that Monday, our last day there, was partly bright, so that we could get about in comfort and could have light enough to see the art in the dark galleries and churches, even in a cursory way. We utilized it the entire day, with a carriage driving from place to place.

"The principal galleries of the city are the Uffizi and the Palatine or 'Pitti,' containing a large number of the most celebrated works of the world. The Uffizi is being remodeled or changed, and so a lot of its pictures are temporarily in the Pitti and the latter was packed full. The Pitti is also a palace, having beautiful gardens and containing the bath room of Maria Medici. We were also in the Borgello museum, which is largely sculpture and bronzes, the best known being by Donatello. His well-known 'Mercury' is there.

"There are about twenty very old cathedrals, of great interest to one who has plenty of time in Florence. We saw seven or eight of the largest and best known. 'The Cathedral,' Duomo, is immense, one of the largest churches in the world, and is very imposing. Its very large dome can be seen from everywhere. Its exterior is made in panels of colored marble and granite, and is different from anything of the kind we have ever seen.

"The Santa Croce is another large church containing the tombs of a number of the celebrated men of Italy, the best known being Michael Angelo, Machiavelli, Alfieri and Rossini. This church also shows some of the restoration of the beautiful frescoed walls, which were all but destroyed by the vandalism of 200 or 300 years ago.

"Other fine churches are Santo Spirito, Carmine, San Lorenzo, Bodia, Santa Maria Novello and San Trinita. Many fine statues abound in the city, bringing back from our school days such names as Dante, Garibaldi and Savanarola.

"We were permitted to see the making of mosaics, in which I presume Florence leads the world. How these wonderful works of art are produced from colored marble is a marvel of the ages. Our driver over the city showed Florence to be much more attractive than we had imagined. In fact, from a hill near our hotel, our view showed it to be a beautiful place.

Task Is Tremendous

"December 1, Folks, I am 'flabbergasted.' It would really seem blasphemous or sacrilegious to use such an expression in a city as historically, artistically and religiously great as is Rome, but I don't know how else to confess to you that I have before me a job too big for me, especially in the confines of a limited letter. To come to this spot, which to many is really a sacred one, and fail to give you some description of what we see would be disappointing to many of you who are reading these letters, and yet to enter into a detailed description of even the most outstanding marvels, would fill a book, instead of a letter. I think I shall finish this letter by giving you a few personal impressions of the everyday things and in the next will try to find the happy middle ground, where I may tell you of some of the wonders of Rome in my homely way, without being too technical or tiresome.

"We did not forget that Thursday was Thanksgiving day, so Thursday morning I asked the manager of our hotel, 'The Metropole,' if he remembered what day it was. He speaks pretty good English and so I was surprised when I found that he had never heard of our Thanksgiving. After I had explained to him its meaning and added that we always had turkey for dinner on that day he said we should have some in Italy and so we did. The turkey is a very rare bird in the northern countries of Europe, so we have had very little of it and it hit the spot.

"Of course they know nothing about cranberries and they let nearly all their celery go to root, so they have little green celery.

"A young couple of Americans from New Jersey are here and they, with a young Scotchman, who travels South America for the Moline Plow company, made a little American crowd, and after enjoying the turkey and remarking that we were eating it at just about the same time of day that you folks had your midday feast, considering the difference in time, we all sat and chatted in the reading room till a late hour.

"I have said that our first day here was consumed with mail and such matters. The next was a heavy, rainy day and we couldn't get out at all. Yesterday was a glorious day, however, and we utilized it, having a double carriage all day, stopping only long enough for lunch.

Two Wheeled Wagons

"The most noticeable feature of the streets of Rome are the big-wheeled carts. Why they prefer two immense wheels to four smaller ones I don't understand, but the wheels and carts are so heavy that it would seem one horse or mule couldn't pull them empty, yet they pull great loads, more than two horses could pull in America, it seems. Very small horses or donkeys will trudge along with load enough for a truck. And they have a queer sun or rain protection that folds to one side. It is like a segment of the top of a covered wagon. They decorate the horses and donkeys with all kinds of fancy stuff and bells.

"The people are not dark, as expected, the smells are not dis-

EXTRA CARS FOR FESTIVAL CROWD

Pacific Electric Will Run Special Service For Rose Tournament

Two-minute service from Los Angeles during a period of several hours and extra through service from practically every point on the Pacific Electric system are planned for handling what is expected to be the banner New Year crowd to Pasadena. Arrangements looking to handling 50,000 passengers to the Rose Tournament have been completed by the railway management, who hope to duplicate last year's achievement when not a single failure of equipment resulted during the trying movement.

Starting at 6 a. m., three-car trains will leave the Sixth and Main Street station at approximately two-minute intervals, continuing until the heaviest movement is over. In order to expedite train movements, Short Line trains via South Pasadena are to be routed south on San Pedro street, over elevated, and north on Main street, this being the reverse of routes usually followed. Oak Knoll line trains will be routed in both directions via elevated and San Pedro street, passengers boarding on stub track in rear of station. Regular routing and place of departure will be resumed after 2 p. m.

Commencing at 12:30 p. m., Short Line trains will be routed direct to stadium for the Navy-Washington State football game.

Year's Biggest Traffic

Plans for handling the New Year's crowd have been in progress for the past month, this movement being the largest in volume to a single point experienced each year by the Pacific Electric, more than 300 cars being required to care for the crowd. Among provisions made for the rapid and efficient handling of the crowd are the installation of four portable substations to care for increased power demands. For the past several weeks trainmen from other lines have been used on Pasadena runs in order to familiarize them with operating details to be encountered. Overtime work on bad-order cars has been in progress during the month in order to have largest possible number of cars available.

Tower cars, linemen and mechanical repairmen are to be placed at many strategic points ready for correction of any mechanical or power failure that may develop. Block signals are to be blinded and replaced by flagmen who will control movement of trains on account of necessity of shorter headway. Extra ticket booths and counters will be available at both Main street station and at the stadium grounds in Pasadena. Additional passenger directors and twenty traffic officers at the Main street station will be available to care for the safety of the crowd.

Co-operation of the public in starting early is urged, and by so doing excessive crowds will be avoided and the Pacific Electric will be enabled to render better service.

Special through trains will be operated from Glendale.

OIL PRODUCTIONS

Nearly 30 per cent of the 400,000,000 barrels of eastern gasoline-bearing crude oils come from wells with a daily production of 10 barrels or less.

Record Year Predicted for Glendale Business

Community Loyalty was demonstrated by Glendale people in no uncertain measure during the before-Christmas shopping season. Glendale stores were crowded with eager holiday buyers who learned last year that they could buy as advantageously in Glendale as elsewhere and avoid the terrible congestion in large city stores, streets and cars.

Not all who did their holiday shopping in Glendale did so from a sense of Community Loyalty, of course, but all who are loyal to the community did their holiday trading here.

Glendale merchants have demonstrated their interest in the community by providing a shopping center second to none and the citizens generally are responding in the same spirit. This cooperation between merchants and buyers is a large factor in heralding abroad Glendale's importance, for, as has been said many times on this page, a good business district is one of the first essentials of a city that aspires to size and greatness.

Community greatness is not the result of the efforts of one individual or of one class of citizens, but can only come from the concerted efforts of all people and all classes. The merchants of a city bear a large part of the responsibility for a community's growth and reputation, and, when the people respond to their efforts as they did in Glendale during the holidays, a condition is created that is ideal for community development.

The merchants, professions and trades represented on this page are doing their bit to promote Community Loyalty which they know to be essential to Community Development. They are thanking the people for a generous response to their efforts the past year and asking that this co-operation continue. They promise to work during the coming year for a Greater Glendale and they predict that with a continuance of your cooperation Glendale's growth in 1924 will exceed all former records.

Assessments, Refunds and Credits Governed By New Decisions

Rules that will be observed by the Internal Revenue Department in making assessments, refunds and credits of income and excess profit taxes, in the case of returns filed for 1918 upon a fiscal year basis, were received from Washington yesterday by Collector Rex Goodcell.

Approximately $3,000,000 in claims filed in the Southern California District by 2,000 income taxpayers are affected by the line of policy announced.

In income and profits tax cases where the taxable year is a fiscal year ended during the year 1918, the time from which the five year period for making assessments begins to run is as follows:

Time for Assessments

(1) In cases where prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918, a return was filed under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918 a return was filed under that act, the time from which the five year period begins to run is the time for filing the return filed subsequent to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918.

(2) In cases where prior to the enacting of the Revenue Act of 1918 a return was filed under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918, no return was filed under that act, the five year period of limitation for the making of assessments is not applicable, and assessments for that period may be made at any time.

(3) In cases where prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918 no return was filed under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917 and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918 a return was filed under that act, the time from which the five year period for making assessments begins to run is the time of filing of the return filed subsequent to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918.

(4) In cases where no return was filed either under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, or under the Revenue Act of 1918, the five year period of limitation is not applicable, and assessments may be made at any time.

In income and profits tax cases where the taxable year is a fiscal year ended during the 1918, the time from which the five-year period for making refunds and credits begins to run is as follows:

Refunds and Credits

(1) In cases where prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918, a return was made under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918, a return was made under that act, either by the taxpayer or by the commissioner, a collector, or a deputy collector, if the taxpayer made no return, the five-year period begins to run from the due date of the return made subsequent to the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918, which is the due date provided under that act.

(2) In cases where prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918 a return was made under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918 no return was made under that act, either by the taxpayer or by the commissioner, a collector, or a deputy collector, the time from which the five-year period begins to run is the due date of the return filed under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, as fixed by those acts.

(3) In cases where prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1918 no return was made under the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, and after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918 a return was made under that act, either by the taxpayer or by the commissioner, a collector, or a deputy collector, if the taxpayer did not make a return, the five-year period begins to run from the due date of the return made after the passage of the Revenue Act of 1918, which is the due date provided under that act.

(4) In cases where no return was made under either the Revenue Acts of 1916 and 1917, or under the Revenue Act of 1918, either by the taxpayer, or by the Commissioner, a collector, or a deputy collector, the five-year period is not applicable.

agreeable, but some of the habits are very distasteful, not to say indecent. I am not a prude as to the nude in art, but the lengths to which this is carried, especially in statuary, in these galleries and on the streets of Florence is enough to make anybody disgusted. To their credit be it said, this is noticeably absent in the churches."

NEW YEAR REVEL, CANDIDATE'S AIM

August September to Welcome 1924 at Celebration In Drug Store

By F. A. GRAHAM
Of The Evening News Staff.

TUJUNGA, Dec. 31.—A six-day search was ended today when Hon. August September, rival candidate of Professor Zantippe of Glendale for the presidency, was found at his 400-acre country estate in East Tujunga. Campaign headquarters, political rendezvous and other questionable places were visited by newspaper men in an endeavor to locate the eminent politician and get his opinion of the recent attack on his character made by Prof. Zantippe, but Mr. September has not visited these places in several days. As a last resort a taxi was commandeered and a delegation drove to his estate, in the hope that he was engaged there in some experimental invention work. This proved to be the correct solution and the reporters borrowed taxi fare from him, thereby avoiding the calamity hinted at by the driver.

"What are you doing?" was the first question asked. "I am perfecting another invention and ignoring the libelous utterances of that false alarm in Glendale."

Studies Rivals' Attack

Sure enough, there he was with a copy of The Glendale Evening News containing the report of Professor Zantippe's charge of bigamy and other crimes. Mr. September was ignoring the whole thing through a reading glass.

"What is the cause of your absence from headquarters," was next.—"I am taking a holiday vacation and at the same time getting ready an invention that will get me the votes of every motorist in the world. It is a process that will make inner tubes out of ordinary rubber bands by treating the bands in a solution of yeast. This boon to the motoring public will create a popularity for me, the coming president, that will eclipse that of the perpetrator of the flivver.

"But I am forgetting business for at least another week. This is the time of the year when we should be full of Merry Christmas and plum pudding. Professor Zantippe's mouth says words, but they mean less than nothing. Wait until Miss Fall and Miss Autumn hear about him referring to them as matrons. You know what happens when a maiden lady is addressed as Mrs.

"The war certainly made this country safe for the Democrats, but it is in the hands of the Republicans. Professor Zantippe is a great after-dinner speaker. He goes out after his dinner, speaking for it at the back doors. But until after New Year's I shall endeavor to forget that there is such a person as the professor.

New Year's Revel

"In anticipation of the coming celebration of New Year eve, which is always a gay affair in all large cities in the cafes and roadside bungalows, I have reserved a stool for the evening at the Tujunga Drug store soda fountain. There will be festive doings as the Old Year ends and the New Year begins. I understand that there will be an extra soda dispenser engaged for the occasion to serve the large crowd of revelers that is expected.

"So I wish you a Happy New Year and many of them."

DRAWS PARALLEL TO PASSING YEAR

Time Flies But Jesus Christ Is Everlasting, Says Lutheran Pastor

Life, as associated with the passing of 1923 and the beginning of 1924, was the theme of Rev. Henry O. Kringle's sermon to the members of the Zion Lutheran congregation yesterday morning. He took his text from Luke 2, 21.

"Time flies, but Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever," said Rev. Kringle.

"Eight days had been accomplished since the birth of the wonderful Christ child whose coming into the world the angels had hailed with their heavenly song on the plains of Bethlehem. The Eternal One had now entered upon a course of time, and His days were now numbered like those of the children of men. His course was comparatively short. The son of man remained in the flesh only 33 years, and on New Year's day the first eight days were accomplished.

Contemplate Time

"This suggests to us that we contemplate time. What an appropriate subject for the New Year. Another year of our earthly pilgrimage is passed. How fast did those 365 days of 1923 roll by! In childhood and in the days of youth we are not so much aware of the flight of time; time does not seem so short to us, and that is probably owing to the fact that we are in a state of development, that things are new to us in the world, and that so many new thoughts and ideas crowd upon us that time seems long. But when we have been made thoroughly acquainted with the ways of this life and perform our routine work, we are surprised how time flies.

"Ascending the mount of life's pathway we soon reach the summit and our hairs are turning gray, the children growing into manhood and womanhood, our increasing bodily infirmities remind us of the fact that we are on the descent.

"As we enter the new year the sweet name of Jesus is placed above the portals of the new year, the same sweet name that guided us through the year that is past. Though the mountains shall depart and the hills be removed, there is one thing that shall never depart, and that is the Lord's kindness. His kindness can never be removed. Jesus remains the same merciful Saviour, whose grace is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear Him. If we accept Christ in true faith, the changes of time cannot essentially affect us. To the repentant sinner He will give forgiveness of sins, and finally lead him through this vale of tears to His heavenly mansions."

Beware Bank Bandits Celebrating New Year's Pasadena's Big Day Films Follow Cycle

By Gil A. Cowan

Bank banditry is more or less of a daily occurrence. The latest effort in Los Angeles was featured with dramatic details. A grim visaged youth carrying a bottle labelled nitro-glycerin threatened to "blow up" an establishment if his penned request for cash was not met. He also carried a revolver.

Of course, the teller showed good judgment in passing out a small amount while the bandit overlooked $100,000 which was contained in a suitcase held by a messenger nearby. But it would appear that banks should be better protected in the heart of a city. On one occasion recently the alarm system failed to work.

It would appear that a small investment in an electrical "flash" board within sight of the bank's private officers, or someone within reach of a gun, would work much more satisfactorily than a complicated bell alarm.

Local banks would do well to adopt some simple safety measure in view of the audacity of the criminal element at this time.

Tomorrow is "ze Happe Noo Yeeers," as our foreign friends might sneeze it. We will all arise with firm resolutions and retire without such firmness of purpose, no doubt.

Tonight a great number of celebrants will gather in the city and make merry. Perhaps it will resemble the Fourth of July. Certainly no small number of "cut outs" on motorcar exhausts will be blown to smithereens by those who insist on "back firing" their way down Broadway.

And the staid old Pacific Electric cars will be rocked by the mobs of gobs and others who gather on the street corners to give the dear people a thrill.

After an evening of such amusement as may be had the tired and possibly pleased mob will retire for a few hours and then "rush" Pasadena.

The Tournament of Roses is one of the events of the year while the football game between Washington and the Navy will attract quite a sizable crowd.

It would be the writer's prediction, however, that the Rose Bowl will find many vacant seats on the morrow. The game will be good, but it has not intrigued the sporting blood the way a real honest-to-goodness college east and west battle would have done.

This is no criticism of the Pasadena programmers. Rather, it shows something wrong elsewhere.

Glendale enthusiasts, however, are going to watch with pride both the city and Elks' floats—floral masterpieces which undoubtedly will win prizes.

The Tournament of Roses is an institution of which Pasadena may feel proud. It is an event which thousands travel many miles to see and they are well rewarded.

Southern California's New Year's pageant never grows old. There is always something new. And, like a good play, the more one sees of it the greater the desire to see it once again.

Speaking of plays the film producers have arranged quite a hodge podge for 1924, it seems. Having bought up all the good books and presented most of them; having run the gamut of history from Bible times to the World war; having done costume dramas, spectacles and the rest, they are allowing scenario editors to rest their eyes on pulchritudinous displays such as "The Dancer of the Nile," "Temple of Venus," etc.

Even the "bathing beauties of 1924" are flickering forth on the silver screen which causes one to comment that the picture business, like history, follows a cycle.

Just a hint to our readers this evening. Telephone your orders tonight for tomorrow's New Year's edition of The Glendale Evening News. It is a great, representative newspaper, but we are sure there will not be enough copies to supply the demand, once the splendid issue is put before you. If you have a half dozen friends in the east, or more, who should know about Glendale, order your additional copies for mailing now!

Bible Class Studies Scriptural Problems

The Men's Bible study class of the First Methodist Episcopal church devoted their study hour yesterday morning to the discussion of what the Rev. Edward Hoskyn called "Knuts to Crack." The three questions for discussion were: "Will we know our loved ones when we meet them in the spirit world as we know them here on earth?" Rev. C. R. Norton, pastor emeritus of this church, led the discussion, followed by Rev. Hoskyn and others. Attention was called to the fact that no light on this subject was furnished by the New Testament writers. The question was answered at the close of the discussion by a unanimous "yes" by a vote of the class.

"Is a belief in the virgin birth of Jesus essential to salvation?" was the next problem discussed, and it brought some strong arguments from the speakers. Rev. Hoskyn called attention to the many prophesies of such divinity found in the Old Testament, and asserted that in no place could be found any reference to mortal man having anything to do with the coming of the Messiah, but rather all referred to "the seed of the woman which shall bruise the serpent's head." This question was also answered in the affirmative by vote of the class.

There was not much discussion of the next question. "Can we be saved without sanctification?" The class voted that all peoples who accepted the Christ as their Savior were by that very act sanctified in him, and the question was answered in the negative.

Announcement was made of a dinner and entertainment to be given next Friday evening by the class in the social hall of the church, at which the future activities of the class are to be discussed.

Doctor Loses Nerves Treating Nerve Case

ST. JACOBS, Dec. 31.—"Why, I'm going insane!" Dr. Carl J. Schmidt suddenly cried as he was treating a woman patient in his office.

He waved his hands wildly. "I'm crazy right now!" he cried.

At present Dr. Schmidt, who has been a physician and surgeon in St. Jacob for twenty-five years, having considerable local reputation for his ability in handling growths on the brain and similar afflictions, is a patient in the Illinois State Hospital for the Insane at Alton, Ill.

Feathers of 90,000 geese were used to supply the pillows for a hotel recently built.
